Country Living in the Albany School District! If you've been dreaming of a little space to spread out, this property in the Albany school district is a great fit. It's partially cleared and already has power on-site with public water available, so you can get started on your home or shop right away. With 382 feet of road frontage, there's plenty of room for easy access and privacy. Set up your deer feeders out back, watch the wildlife wander through, and enjoy the peace and quiet of country living all while being just a short drive from town conveniences.
