Welcome to this beautiful home in the Cross Gate subdivision, tucked just off Tiger Bend and Jones Creek. This two story, 4 bed, 2.5 bath split floor plan home delivers the kind of layout and upgrades that make everyday life smoother. The heavy hitters are already done: new roof and a whole-home generator. That's the stuff you do not want to have to budget for after you move in. Inside, the kitchen has been refreshed with an updated backsplash and countertops, giving it a clean, current look that feels ready for weeknight dinners and weekend hosting. And upstairs, you've got two large rooms that can flex to whatever season you're in right now: bonus living, game room, office, workout space, guest setup, you name it. Outside is where you'll really feel it. A fully fenced backyard with no rear neighbor gives you privacy and breathing room, and being in Flood Zone X is one more layer of confidence for the long run. Even the garage is a standout: an air-conditioned two-car garage that stays comfortable for unloading groceries, storing tools, or setting up a hobby space without battling the heat. If you've been looking near Jones Creek and want something in a great neighborhood with smart upgrades and a layout that actually works, this home in Cross Gate is worth seeing in person. Let's schedule a showing and make sure it feels like home.
