Let the Good Times Roll on False River! With 62 feet of waterfrontage and a depth of 258 to work with, there is space to create privacy, separation, and flexibility simultaneously. Think about the possibilities that come with scale: choosing a homesite that feels tucked away, preserving open areas for recreation and exploration, and shaping the land around how you actually want to use it. The waterfront feature adds an everyday focal point that elevates the entire experience, making time on the property feel like a true getaway.
