Not all new construction homes are created equal and this one proves it. Picture mornings on the oversized front porch, afternoon chats on the private side porch, and an open living, dining, and custom kitchen space that's just waiting for game nights, holiday dinners, and everything in between. The layout just makes sense. Two guest bedrooms and a full bath are tucked away on one side of the home, giving everyone a little extra privacy, while the spacious primary suite sits on the opposite side of the main hall. Big windows fill the primary bedroom with natural light, and the spa-inspired ensuite is the perfect place to unwind after a long day. A convenient powder room means guests don't have to use your personal bathroom, and rear garage access keeps the front of the home looking clean and welcoming. Warm, inviting, and anything but ordinary this is the kind of home that feels good the moment you walk through the door.
